Dear Colleague:

The San Francisco Art Institute is pleased to announce the "English for Fine Arts" program to be held this summer. Enclosed you will find several posters which may be placed around your institution to inform your students of this unique opportunity for study in San Francisco.

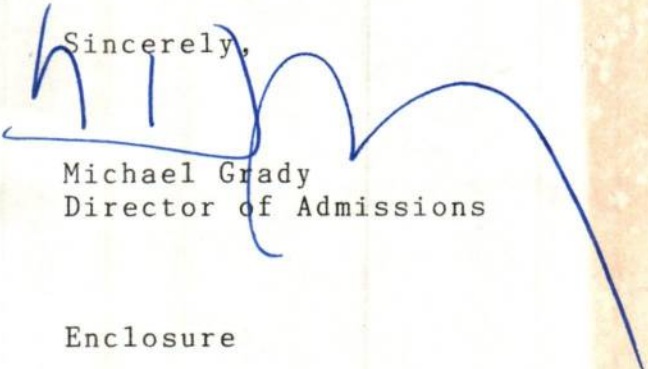

The EFA program is intended to allow young artists to substantially improve their English speaking ability in an art school setting. This program is suitable for those who wish to pursue their education in american art schools as well as for those who simply want to gain a firmer understanding of the contemporary american art scene.

A brochure describing the details of EFA will be reaching you in January. Specific inquiries may be directed to the following address:

We hope that you and your students will find this program to be helpful and stimulating. Thank you for your support and cooperation.

Sincerely,

Michael Grady
